

SALES AGENT WANTED

EUROPE & UK

Founded on the Basque Coast (France) in 2012, Voltaway conceives soft mobility solutions using the best compounds brands available. Thanks to our exclusive designs and inovative concepts, Voltaway distributes one of the most advanced e-vehicules on the market.

Voltaway e-bikes, offer a green mobility solution for all life explorers in an age where we make our best efforts to protect all aspects of the environment !

In an environment where air pollution and traffic congestion dominate the news, we change the way you navigate to make your life a smooth ride !

Our goal : make your daily ride an adventure, combining design, quality and performance to our ocean/outdoor lifestyle approach.

As a medium-sized company in a growing market, we rely heavily on our network of agents and resellers for commercial activities.

We would like to invest in the further growth of the European markets and therefore we would like to contract some experienced sales agent, to further build up our business and network.

The sales agent generates revenue by supporting the existing reseller network and expanding the network with new resellers specialized in e-mobility. In addition, the sales agent works together with our marketing team to increase brand awareness and lead generation.

The sales agent:

- Has extensive experience in building and scaling business.
- Has a hands-on mentality and is a good networker.
- Technically savvy and understands consultative selling.
- Has a large portfolio of existing accounts.

Voltaway offers:

- A unique opportunity to work with a fast-growing and financially stable company
- Complete sales support and active customer service
- Extensive training and guidance
- Strong B2B platform

We would like to get in touch with professional candidates for long term commitments

Please send apply to yann@hoff.fr